Recommend voting no on Measure V.

A well-intentioned idea that will do more harm than good.

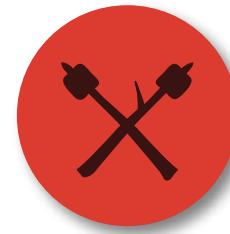

How is the forest products industry like scouting?

We both have our merit badges.

FOREST
STEWARDSHIP

Mendocino Redwood Company was founded in 1998 with two ideas in mind.

First, and foremost, to be good stewards of the land with state-of-the-art management.

Then, to leverage the benefits of that approach to make us a sustainable forest products company that could, itself, survive.

That's why we took immediate steps to qualify for Forest Stewardship Council® certification.

Committing to FSC® policies to promote environmentally sound, socially beneficial, and economically prosperous management of our forestlands.

And then, proving to a bunch of steely-eyed forestry experts that we actually did what we promised.

In 2000, and every year since, we've been certified by our FSC examiners. By doing the right thing for our wood-producing lands. Including using internationally approved techniques to manage tanoak and plant millions of new redwood and Douglas fir trees.

Which is why Measure V is so troubling.

It's a well-intentioned, but misguided ballot proposal that will demolish our ability to restore the conifer balance in the forest. It will reverse environmental progress as well as our economic foundations. Take a close look at Measure V.

On the merits, we think you'll agree that it does more harm than good.
